

Distributions of Prediction Error with Increasing Amounts of Training Data

Where the remaining data is used for testing the predictive performance of the algorithms.

The individual x-axes are the probability ranges for the bars in each histogram.

